Monthly Commentary

Markets tumbled in November on the news of the Omicron variant. This was on the back of a fourth Covid wave already racing through Europe. However, growth in Asia is set to recover as mobility has increased significantly. While quantitative easing is expected to end in 2022, the central bank balance sheets will not shrink, and global policy rates will see only a mild increase.

Rising uncertainty around Covid will allow monetary policy to stay more accommodative for longer. Natural gas prices in Europe surged more than 17% on news that German energy regulators suspended certification proceedings for the Nord Stream 2 natural gas pipeline. The pipeline would allow Russia to double its exports to Germany. Meanwhile, relations between the US and China have improved with President Joe Biden reiterating that the US doesn't seek to change China's political system and doesn't support Taiwan independence. A lowering of tariffs would provide an upside risk to Chinese and US growth. US October headline inflation increased by the most since 1990 at 6.2%. However, inflation expectations remain well anchored and within the range consistent with the Fed achieving its 2% personal consumption expenditure (PCE) target.

South African finance minister Enoch Godongwana emphasised government's "unflinching commitment to fiscal sustainability" in his first medium term budget policy statement. Treasury estimates debt will peak at 78.1% in 2025/6, down from 88.9% forecasts in February this year. Although the budget overall was well balanced, the annual reports of State-Owned Enterprises show that several of the 26 larger and more familiar entities are close to total failure. These include Eskom, the SABC, PetroSA, Denel and the Land Bank.

As a result, South African bond yields remain very attractive, pricing in the risk that exists with the highest prospective real yield in the investable universe (Colchester Oct 2021). A conservative Monetary Policy Committee raised interest rates 25 basis points (bps) in November. The South African Reserve Bank's quarterly projection model implies a 25bps rate hike at every MPC meeting next year, with the repo rate rising to 6% by the end of 2023, below its previous assumption. The FTSE/JSE SWIX Index climbed 0.7%, Industrials were up 6.4% and Financials fell 2.6%. The JSE All Bond Index increased 0.7%, while the rand depreciated by 5.4% relative to the US dollar.
